Word has come to the News from what we regard as an entirely trustworthy gource that the Hannacrats in this State who have been entrusted with the manipulation of the Republican corruption fund are seriously proposing to buy Virginia's electoral vote for McKinley by pribing judges of election at certain precincts in various counties of the State. Not long ago it was stated by the Philadelphia Press, a Republican newspaper of wide reputation, that the "sound-mone," campaign managers in Virginia had for mulated a plan to "pay the judges of election to make ar honest return of the votes cast," but the announcement was not year up to the repeal of the bill in which the 2711-4 grains of silver in the dollar coined were worth 100 cents, in some time before the close of Mr. Pollock's speech Colonel Richmond entered dollar coined were worth 100 cents, in some time before the close of Mr. Pollock's speech Colonel Richmond entered the court-room, carrying a bundle, presually bear being as low as 72 and 72 cents. The New York World says that "the free silver question should be settled decisively in the election, one way or the other. The country can stand anything etter than continued conflict and uncer tainty." Correct. And the only way to settle it decisively, one way or another, of Representatives, thus giving free silver a chance to vindicate itself or show that it will not work. The masses are determined to try the free coinage experiment, and if Bryan is not elected they wil keep up the agitation until the question is tested. With the Senate in favor of silver, the election of McKinley and a lock, two years more of uncertainty, and a most desperate fight on the part of the silverites two years hence for the control of the House. In this way thousands of votes have been diverted from their true direction, and the Republicans have thus been able to make a show of strength which they did not honestly possess.

In this campaign, for the first time in Virginia, we have a specimen of Ohio election tactics. We hope and expect them to fall; yet we cannot but be angered at the cry of "Stop thief!" coming from the cunning lips of those who are trying to steal Democratic votes to elect McKinley.

The Democratic party of Virginia has the greatest possible interest in having a perfectly fair election. If every man open, avowed, and active assistants to if there should be no constraint put upon any voter-our majority would exceed any ever before recorded by us in this State. This we most truly and firmly believe. It is the Democrats, not the Republicans, who have to fear that the Virginia elections will not be as fair and the voters So let not our people be thrown off the track of the real offender by his blatant cry of "Stop thief!" CLINTWOOD, VA., October 16 .- (Special.)-Pursuant to appointment, D. S. Pollock put in his appearance here to address the people of Dickenson county on the issues of the campaign. Despite the we do not doubt they will find cases to rain, which fell nearly all day, there was we do not doubt they will find cases to make an example of by applying the law a large crowd on hand. Colonel J. B. Bichmond, of Scott county, was on hand, too, for a speech, he representing the Bolters. It was inilmated to the Demo-cratic chairman that the Republicans desired to have Mr. Pollock divide time with Colonel Richmond, and enter into a joint discussion with him. The chairman then consulted Mr. Pollock, who agreed to a fair and equal division of time, if the Colonel would avow his support of the would not, under the peculiar circumstances, recognize him in any other capacity. So the Democratic chairman wrote to the chairman of the Republican party, stating these terms, and the latter, after consulting the Colonel, replied, refusing the terms.

A New Feature.

HAMPTON, VA., October 16.—(Special.)
The Republicans started a new feature here in this campaign—a club to be composed entirely of white Republicans. It looks very much as if this was done to catch some Bolters, and it is said that several voters who have heretofore been classed as Democrats have enrolled their names. It is probable that the spoils in sight if McKinley is elected have much to do with the change. If Bryan is elected no one will shout more justily for him than some of these same voters.
